Volunteer with ReDI School of Digital Integration

ReDI School is a non-profit tech school for women with migrant- and refugee background, offering a free program, including IT and tech courses on several levels.

Be part of it! You can get up to three paid days off work for volunteering to help ReDI's learners find their way to the labour market.

In 2022, ReDI School of Digital Integration helped 255 learners improve their digital skills and employability.

“Volunteering with ReDI allows me to give back to society and help other women find a pathway to a career in IT development. It feels good – and it’s a lot of fun too.”

ReDI School of Digital Integration Denmark is a non-profit tech school for women with migrant- and refugee background, offering free IT and tech courses on several levels. ReDI creates digital empowerment by supporting women in getting access to digital skills and a social & professional network in Denmark.

Grundfos engages locally with ReDI School of Digital Integration by offering employees up to three days' paid leave to volunteer as mentors or teachers.

The Grundfos Foundation (Poul Due Jensen Foundation) has contributed 50,000 EUR toward ReDI School of Digital Integration's activities in Denmark through its Community Engagement Grant programme.
